U.S. Patent 6,388,648 to Clifton et al., "Color Gamut and Luminance Matching Techniques for Image Display Systems," discloses an LCD projection unit employing a luminance and color balance system employing an LCD array characterization lookup table storing multiple sets of luminance and gamma correction values that are user selectable to control luminance and color balance.

U.S. Patent 4,409,614 to Eichler et al., "Method for the Reproduction of Originals Which, with Respect to Their Color Content, are Scanned According to a Tristimulus Method," discloses a method wherein color scanning signals generated by scanning the original image are first converted into three primary color signals having actual color values in a pre-determined color coordinate system corresponding substantially identically to theoretical color values of the original.

Sincerely,
